OPERATORS AND CLERKS TO STRIKE

Five Hundred Men Involved In Mackay Radio Company Dispute

HOME AND FOREIGN TRAFFIC AFFECTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP).—The American Radio Telegraphists' Association tonight called a strike of operators and clerks of the Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company to begin at 3 a.m. Saturday. Hoyt S. Haddock, association president, predicted 500 men would be involved. He said Mackay had refused demands of employees for increased wages and shorter hours.

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4 (AP).—The strike of Mackay radio employees, announced tonight in New York, came as the result of a breakdown in negotiations between the American Radio Telegraphists' Association and the Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, it was announced here.

WILL TIE UP ALL SERVICES

Mervyn Rathbone, secretary of the association's San Francisco local, who made the announcement, said the strike would tie up the company's foreign and domestic traffic.

The A.R.T.A., he said, is seeking recognition of the union and a contractual agreement to govern hours, wages and working conditions of all Mackay employees.

DIVIDEND PLAN BEING STUDIED

Alberta May Start Scheme With Payments to Needy Families

EDMONTON, Oct. 4 (AP).—Needy families in Alberta rural municipalities may be paid "cash dividends" in the future if a plan being considered by the Provincial Government is adopted, Premier Abernethy stated today.

Under the plan, the Government would make a minimum payment to a family of $5 a month, and the municipality would grant an additional $2.50. The exact dividend to be paid would depend on the number of persons in a family.

NOT "TRUE DIVIDEND"

"This is not to be regarded as a 'true dividend,'" the Premier declared. "We will not have that until the just price and flow of credit are also made to apply."

The "true dividend" is the "basic dividend" by which the Alberta Social Credit Government promises to pay bona fide citizens $25 a month.

Another plan to aid unemployed single men was outlined by Mr. Abernethy. It would provide technical school training for single unemployed men under twenty-five years of age. There would be wages for part time work. Residential facilities would be provided for the men.

NAVAL VESSEL READY TO AID

SEWARD, Alaska, Oct. 4 (AP).—Ready to aid in case of fire or other emergency while the city's flooded power plant is out of commission, the U.S.S. Swallow, naval radio supply vessel, based at Bremerton, Wash., arrived here from the westward today.

Snow fell in the mountains today and the rain, which deluged this district for forty-eight hours and abated last yesterday, was pouring down again tonight.

Seattle Counsel Plans To Call 2,300 Witnesses

TACOMA, Oct. 4 (AP).—Like Noah's flood, the defence of William O. Priest, former welfare commissioner, may take "forty days and forty nights." Defence Counsel Guy E. Kelly today served notice he expects to call 2,300 witnesses to clear Priest of a charge of embezzling 11,788 forty-nine-pound sacks of flour during his administration.

Kelly is asking that a subpoena be issued for each witness. "If the entire list is called it will cost Pierce County a minimum of $4,500, plus 10 cents a mile for mileage to and from court. Witness fees are a day."

War Casualties in Ethiopia Between 5,000 and 7,000

LONDON, Oct. 5 (AP).—London newspapers today estimated killed or wounded during the fighting in Ethiopia at between 5,000 and 7,000. These figures apparently were based on vague and unconfirmed reports, and no source was given.

THREE SHIPS ARE TIED UP

Crews of New Zealand Vessels at Vancouver Refuse To Work Cargo

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (AP).—Three New Zealand ships remained in port tonight while their crews conferred with members of the striking Longshore and Waterfront Workers' Association here. Neither longshore spokesmen nor company officials would comment on the situation after more than eighteen hours of discussion.

The ships are the Walrus and Hauraki, freighters of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, and the Monowai, passenger and cargo vessel of the same company chartered by the Canadian-Australasian Line to replace the R.M.S. Abnaki, which is undergoing overhaul in Sydney, Australia.

CARGO IS DISCHARGED

The Hauraki's cargo of sugar was discharged by means of electric winches, which make participation of crew members unnecessary. After discharging mail and baggage, the crew of the Monowai walked off, refusing to get up steam for discharge of hides, flour and dried fruits.

The Walrus's cargo was discharged some time ago by members of the new waterfront union, but the crew, after being acquitted on a charge of desertion and pleading guilty to a lesser charge, have refused to take the ship out of port.

WISH TO BE LENIENT

Company officials tonight said if they wished to press charges the men could be tried for desertion, but that they preferred to deal with them as leniently as possible and expressed the hope the matter would be cleared up soon.

ARMED GUARDS ESCORT TRAINS

Deputy Marshals Defend Shipments of Milk in Strikers' Country

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP).—Armed United States deputy marshals rode the trains of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad through the Illinois and Wisconsin dairy country tonight to fend off attacks by farm-policemen in Chicago's milk strike.

Ordered out by Federal Court after strikers stopped several trains by piling lumber on the rails, the deputies guarded shipments of milk into the city market from caboose and passenger coaches.

DAY-TO-DAY BASIS

Already pooling their supply and rationing it to meet minimum needs, milk dealers said they were on a "day-to-day" basis and that 25 to 35 per cent of the supply was cut off today.

Wisconsin strikers resorted to new methods to keep milk from market in their area. Fifteen clambored onto a tank-car truck when it stopped for a traffic light at Kenosha, opened the top vent and poured in kerosene from quart bottles. They ruined the 20,000-pound cargo.

KILLED IN ELEVATOR

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (AP).—Henry Leeman, employee of the McKinnon Packing Company, was killed early tonight when he was caught in the elevator shaft of a Beatty Street building. He died of head injuries before reaching hospital.

Seattle Counsel Plans To Call 2,300 Witnesses

TACOMA, Oct. 4 (AP).—Like Noah's flood, the defence of William O. Priest, former welfare commissioner, may take "forty days and forty nights." Defence Counsel Guy E. Kelly is asking that a subpoena be issued for each witness. "If the entire list is called it will cost Pierce County a minimum of $4,500, plus 10 cents a mile for mileage to and from court. Witness fees are a day."

Kelly's list of names, which took four days to prepare and fills forty-one typewritten pages, was filed today with the clerk of the Superior Court.

He was accused of making off with $127,140 worth of flour. Kelly explained, "We propose to show, by the people on relief who received it, where the flour went."

Local Yield of Potatoes From Pound of Seed Is Believed Record

WHAT officials of the Victoria Horticultural Society believe is a record in potato production from one pound of seed was made known here last night following an official weighing of the yield by representatives of the society.

According to the officials, the yield, variety unknown, from one pound of seed was 315 pounds, and grown by A. E. Powell, 225 Maddock Avenue. As far as known to them, the official world record from one pound of seed was 256 pounds. That being so, Mr. Powell's production betters that figure by fifty-nine pounds.

The potatoes will be on display at the society's chrysanthemum show in the A.O.F. Hall, Cormorant Street, this afternoon and evening.

Will Not Rest Until All Unemployed Are At Work Once More

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett Defends Government's Record—Promises Nova Scotians Vigorous Campaign to Help Sale of Fish in Canada

HALIFAX, Oct. 4 (AP).—A pledge that his party "will not rest" until all Canada's unemployed are put to work was made tonight by Prime Minister Bennett in his fourth Nova Scotia speech of the day.

Canada so far had done as well as "any country in the world" in caring for its jobless, the Prime Minister declared. Employment was higher than in 1926, and his Government proposed finding work for more if given a fresh mandate.

CAMPAIGN FOR FISH

In a province noted for its fisheries, he announced the Government planned a vigorous campaign to help the sale of fish in Canada.

For development of the foreign fish trade, the first step would be to find out just what the buyers wanted. He spoke here after arriving from Saint John, N.B., with stops along the way at Digby, Middleton and Esquimalt—208 Sayward Bldg.

FOUR INJURED IN DWELLING FIRE

Mother and Small Daughter Near Death From Burns—Explosion Of Lamp Starts Blaze

SASKATOON, Oct. 4 (AP).—A mother and her three-year-old daughter lay near death in hospital here tonight, victims of an explosion fire at their farm home at Arlee, Sask. The father and a son were in hospital with less serious burns, and four other children escaped unhurt. Arlee is about sixty miles west of Saskatoon.

It was necessary to pull the frantic father, Miron Melnick, from the building as he attempted to reach the second story and rescue the six children. An explosion as a coal oil lamp was being filled caused the blaze.

Mrs. Melnick, who escaped through a window, had all the clothing burned from her body.

FRANCE SENDS NOTE GIVING ASSURANCES

(Copyright, 1935, by Haves News Agency)

Premier Mussolini tonight notified Great Britain that if Britain's additional warships were withdrawn from the Mediterranean and preparedness measures cancelled in that area, he would be interested in negotiations for peace "with proper regard for Italy's interests."

All parties concerned, Premier Mussolini's note said, could help to bring the end of hostilities and restore peace to the world if they withdrew extra forces from the Mediterranean and Red Sea areas, "annulling simultaneously measures of precaution taken in view of a danger that does not really exist."

SAYS JAPAN WILL REMAIN NEUTRAL

Spokesman States Invitations From League to Co-operate in Sanctions Could Be Considered

TOKIO, Oct. 4 (AP).—A Foreign Office spokesman said today that if and when a formal state of war between Italy and Ethiopia was established, Japan would "assume all responsibilities as a neutral under international law and international treaties."

Such neutrality, however, need not prevent Japan from considering possible invitations from League powers to co-operate in sanctions under the covenant, he added.

"No such invitation has been received and I must decline to discuss Japan's possible action based upon a hypothesis," he said.

LEAGUE MUST TAKE ACTION

Committee Hints at but Does Not Name War Aggressor

GENEVA, Oct. 5 (AP).—The League of Nations Council committee early today virtually completed a report on the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel which, authoritative sources said, contains "a pretty clear picture" of the aggressor, but does not name him.

After long hours of deliberation, the committee of thirteen recessed shortly after 1 a.m. and, with its report "practically finished," prepared to meet before noon to polish it up and add the finishing touches.

The closed meeting of the council, as such, will be delayed until the afternoon, and there were indications the public session, announced for today might be postponed until Sunday.

STRONG REPORT

Informed sources said Great Britain, through Anthony Eden, her minister for League affairs, had insisted on a strong report clearly spotlighting the facts and pointing out who was guilty.

It was his belief, however, that it was not the function of the committee to specifically name the aggressor, but its "summing up" section was to epitomize the situation in regard to treaties, rival claims and opposing attitudes of Italy and Ethiopia.

PROCLAMATION IS BEING PREPARED

San to Be Placed on U.S. Arms Exports to Belligerents if War Exists

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP).—The State Department tonight set up the machinery for the first Federal supervision of arms shipments, but momentarily withheld the clamping of an embargo on munitions to Italy and Ethiopia.

When and if the State Department decides that a "state of war" exists, probably tomorrow or Monday, President Roosevelt, from his cruise on a warship in the Pacific, is ready to issue a proclamation prohibiting munitions sales to the belligerents.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull's announcement tonight covered rules under which all manufacturers, importers or exporters of any of the arms, munitions or implements of war already designated by President Roosevelt, must register with the State Department before November 22 and secure licenses for each specific shipment.

Drive Being Made to Cut Single Railway Line to Coast—Aduwa Reported to Have Fallen—Single Division of Black Infantry Opposes Massed Artillery and Bombing Planes

By CHRISTIAN OZANNE (Copyright, 1935, by Haves News Agency)

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 5.—Intense fighting was reported raging in the Aksum-Aduwa front early today, with a single Ethiopian division contesting every foot of the way against Italy's combined infantry, heavy artillery, tank and air forces.

The Ethiopians were under command of General Woelde Gabriel, a subordinate of Ras Seyum, chief-tain of Emperor Haile Selassie's army in Tigre Province, south of the Eritrean border.

General Gabriel's troops, it was reported, faced the Blackshirt advance without assistance from the main portion of Ras Seyum's army, which was exhausted after its stubborn defence of Aduwa earlier in the day.

Italian planes laid down continuous barrages in the van of the invading army, the dispatches said. Ethiopian military strategists were depending principally on their infantry, while Italy was counting heavily on its air strength.

THREE OFFENSIVES

Three major Italian offensives moved relentlessly forward tonight as Ethiopia's fighters hurled themselves into the teeth of the precision-built Mussolini war machine.

Almost equidistant from each of these fronts lay this capital city, believed to be the ultimate objective of the Italian drive.

With officials admitting that Aduwa, bombed by Italian planes today for the third time, probably would fall by tomorrow, Ethiopia found comfort in only two of the many reports which reached here.

The first was a dispatch from the extreme North, which said an Italian bombing plane had been brought down near Aduwa. The second was a report that 12,000 Ethiopians had advanced into Eritrea to the west of Aduwa.

SEPARATE THRUSTS

Military experts here visualized the Italian offensive as follows:

1. To the far north, in extremely mountainous terrain on about a ten-mile front between Aduwa and Aksum, tanks, planes and infantry drove into Tigre Province despite fierce resistance by Ethiopian troops under Ras Seyum.
2. To the northeast, in the region around Mount Mussa Ali and on the Plain of Hissu, where the first Italian invasion occurred on Wednesday, the Fascist forces tonight advanced almost without resistance. In this region Asfaw Wassan Tafari, Ethiopia's Crown Prince, was in command, but, according to present mobilization plans, his army will not be ready for action until October 12.
3. To the southeast, near the Italian Somaliland border, the bloodiest fighting of the day occurred on the scrubby, waterless plateau around Walwal, scene of the now-historic incident of ten months ago which precipitated the war.

MURDEROUS MADNESS FOLLOWS HIS FAILURE

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 4 (AP).—A Spaniard committed suicide here today after shooting himself in the chest, after a stubborn battle in which heavy casualties were reported on both sides, dispatches from the front said.

The Ras was understood to be organizing an orderly retreat, but he was said to have informed Emperor Haile Selassie that he could not hold Aduwa much longer against air and heavy artillery bombardment.

An Italian air squadron dropped death-dealing explosives on the town city again today, but one of its planes was brought down by an Ethiopian.

AWARDED HEAVY DAMAGES

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP).—A Supreme Court jury today awarded $90,000 damages to Ellen Wenzel, former stage beauty, for disfigurement injuries she suffered while riding with Louis J. Ehret, Jr., of the wealthy New York brewery family.

DETROIT TAKES LEAD IN SERIES, DEFEATING CHICAGO CUBS 6 TO 5

First Game at Chicago Goes Eleven Innings When Pinch-Hitters Even Score in Ninth—White's Hit Wins Struggle

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP).—Out of a tempestuous blast of wintry weather, bitter arguments and base hits, Detroit Tigers, instead of the home-town Cubs, emerged today as the team to beat in the frost-bitten battle for baseball's world championship.

The American League champions, fighting every step of the way, survived a succession of discouraging developments to capture their second straight game behind the relief pitching of Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe in eleven innings that generated enough heated warfare to offset the biting breezes from Lake Michigan.

The final score was 6-5, as Marvin Owen, playing first base instead of the injured Hank Greenberg, tallied the winning run on Jo-Jo White's single off Southpaw Larry French in the second extra frame.

TIGERS NOW FAVORITES The victory put Detroit in the lead, two games to one, and abruptly switched the betting odds as well as the pitching edge in favor of the American League pennant winners. With four games as the maximum left, the next two here, the Tigers now need only two triumphs to clinch their first World Series in five attempts. Cubs must win three Continued on Page 14, Col. 1

Abolition of Relief Camps Pledged; Says C.C.F. Policy Menace

Hon. Ian Mackenzie Makes Plea for Island Liberal Candidates—Indicts Government and C.C.F. for "Divesting People" of Right to Control Credit

"MR. BENNETT, when speaking in this city, said that the relief camps in Canada had been operated with such success and had been so great a benefit to the single men that they had won the admiration of countries abroad. Is there anyone who agrees with that statement? If so, let him stand up. Let him vote for D. B. Plunkett. I am glad to see there is no one in this auditorium tonight who intends to vote for Mr. Plunkett," declared Hon. Ian Mackenzie, when speaking in support of the Island Liberal candidates in the Shrine Auditorium last night.

"The Liberal party stands pledged to two points to which I am strongly opposed. First, I am opposed to the abolition of the relief camps. I am opposed to the socialization of finance, and secondly, the socialization of industry. I am opposed to the reforms that are so necessary for the rehabilitation of that vast army of unemployed that has been created through the last five years of ineffectual administration by the Bennett Government," Mr. Mackenzie asserted.

F. E. Winslow officiated as chairman. There were approximately 400 persons present.

"I come to you tonight with an olive branch, appealing to you for conciliation, co-operation and unification. I trust you will respond to that appeal. The Liberal party is going back to Ottawa. The Liberal party is going to sweep the Mainland. Send your Island Liberal candidates to Ottawa to support me in the Liberal policies that have been enunciated," Mr. Mackenzie continued.

The speaker then dealt with the C.C.F. party, pointing out that there was little difference, except in two points, between the C.C.F. and the Liberal platform. "But there are

CROSS BORDER
Government officials were excited by news from the Amhara region, near the junction of the borders of Ethiopia-Eritrea and Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, that 12,000 Ethiopians under Ras Ayeun had crossed into Eritrea and seized several Italian posts.

New airplane raids on the Aksum-Adua front and in Agadez were reported tonight, but there were no major casualties so far as could be learned. Six persons in the village of Jamadia were wounded in the first attack, while wireless stations at Korabe and Guerlogubi were damaged seriously in the second, it was said.

It was difficult to determine the extent of casualties on the various fronts. A report reaching here from Harar said 2,000 Ethiopians had been killed and many hundreds wounded in fierce fighting on the plateau near Walwal in Ogaden. Reports from Aduwa said it was impossible to tell how many had been killed since the beginning of the Italian attack here is at Aduwa.

MOUNT RAMA TAKEN
Most important of the positions taken in Aduwa district today was strategic Mount Rama. From here the Italians were able to shell Adama, which lies behind the so-called "neutral zone," from which Ethiopian troops had been ordered withdrawn to remove all possibility that they could be accused of aggression.

Mount Rama was occupied after an engagement with Italian infantry, tanks and bombing planes participated. The village of Adigrat, reported almost completely demolished yesterday by an squadron, was in possession of Italian forces tonight, dispatches said.

RAILWAY OBJECTIVE
ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 5 (AP).—Reports reached this capital early today of fierce fighting now underway in the Mount Moussa Ali sector, where the railway to Djibouti, Ethiopia's only real link with the outside world, is at stake.

In order to repel the Italian threat to the important railway bridge at Awash, about thirty miles southwest of Moussa Ali, the Governor of the province was said to be rushing up reinforcements, ordering 50,000 warriors to defend the railroad by all possible means.

The warriors were reportedly headed by a Swiss officer and were equipped with modern Swiss anti-aircraft guns.

The reports said the main army under the command of Governor Ras Seyum of East Tigre Province, had not yet entered the line of fighting on the Aduwa front, which thus far has been carried on by a single division under the command of General Gabriel Wocle.

The fighting got underway early today after five Italian onslaughts from Friday from the sky in new sectors spread death and destruction in Ethiopia.

ITALY IS AVENGED
(Copyright, 1935, by Hava News Agency)
AT ITALIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, ASMARA, Eritrea, Oct. 4 (CP-Havas).—Aduwa, scene of Italy's crushing defeat in 1896, tonight was officially reported taken by the army of the North.

The news caused delirious celebrations among the men and officers. Despite the lack of official confirmation, detachment of the foreign guard acclaimed the Italian army with exultant shouts of victory: "Italy is avenged for 1896!"

Reports said the Aduwa salient had been taken by the famous Gavianna Division, one of the first to embark for Africa, gave the troops a restless night. Officers and men eagerly awaited dawn to proceed over rocky and jagged upland to consolidate the first important victory against Ethiopia.

Ras Seyum, leader of 50,000 Ethiopian troops considered the best of Ethiopia's battle-trained soldiers, was reported falling back beyond Aduwa and Asmara.

Advance sections of the army of the North, under General Santini, were reported to have taken Adigrat, another salient in the Aduwa objective. The Ethiopians were said to have important munitions dumps near Adigrat.

Asmara, holy city containing the

The net reduction as a result of the fifty-one appeals amounted to $24,400, so that the total assessed improvements, instead of showing a gain of $1,000 over the 1933 figure, will show a reduction of $22,800.

AGGRESSION IS OVER IN ORIENT

H. M. Merriman Foresees Peaceful Relationship for Some Time Between Japan and China

Further aggression by the Japanese in China is not likely, in the opinion of H. M. Merriman, New York City, who has traveled widely in the Orient and who is registered at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Merriman.

He foresees no trouble for some time between the two countries, but yesterday admitted "It's anyone's guess."

Mr. Merriman is a member of the famous "Expatriate" Club in New York City, from where wondrous tales emanate and are sent throughout the United States and Canada.

As chairman of the board of directors for the Belding-Hemway Company, silk manufacturers, the visitor reported business good, and added there were indications of still better trade for the future.

After a short visit in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Merriman will go to San Diego to visit their married daughter, after which they may visit Mexico.

Man Arrested at Penticton to Be Brought to City

William Baker, alleged to have been party to a robbery in Saanich last April when two aged women were bound and gagged in their home, 119 Sims Avenue, has been arrested at Penticton, Chief Allan Rankin, of Saanich, has been informed. Sergeant Kenneth Cummings has gone to bring the prisoner here for trial.

The offence occurred on April 24 last, when Mrs. Margaret Scott, and a friend, Mrs. Isabelle Ramsay, of Calgary, were attacked by two men who entered their home and bound them with their own hands.

After a short visit in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Merriman will go to San Diego to visit their married daughter, after which they may visit Mexico.

ADVANCE IN RAW FUR PRICE NOTED

Jump Twenty-Two Per Cent in Past Thirty Days—Indicative of Better Times

Indicative of returning prosperity in both Canada and United States, raw fur prices have advanced over 22 per cent within the last thirty days. A. E. Alexander, of Foster's Fur Store, reported here yesterday on returning from raw fur auction sales in Vancouver and Seattle.

The price jump was due entirely to an increased demand for furs. Mr. Alexander stated, which was taken as positive indication that money is free.

In support of this belief he pointed out the fur business had been one of the first to suffer when depression times set in, while it was generally agreed it was one of the last to pull out of the slump since prospects offered it their minds on furs as soon as they had a little extra money.

MANY ENROLL IN NIGHT CLASSES

Six Hundred Register for Winter Courses—Several New Subjects Available

Desire for further education resulted in approximately 600 "grown-ups" of Victoria enrolling, Thursday night, in night school classes. This year's enrollment for the Fall and Winter term about equals that of last year, which was one of the biggest attendances experienced by the faculty for many years.

George Breadner, new city supervisor of technical education, expressed his gratification over the number who were availing themselves of the evening classes. Still further registrations are expected. Studies will commence in earnest next Monday.

Some thirty persons attended a public demonstration of the art of lip reading, by B. S. H. Tye, who conducted a class last year and will instruct another class this year. Already nine persons have enrolled for this course.

FOURTY-TWO CLASSES

Several prominent Victorians were noticed attending classes, last night.

There are forty-two classes this year, three more than last. Three new departments have been made available this term, including aviation ground course, junior band and music appreciation.

The aviation ground course was received with considerable enthusiasm, while forty enrolled for the dressmaking classes. The woodwork and the metal-work divisions are filled to capacity, with the former having the largest enrollment in its history. H. B. Suzuki, instructor in Japanese, said his class would be a large one.

MANY COURSES

As usual, the typewriting and shorthand classes are large, and many have enrolled for advanced courses in mathematics, literature and science, besides studies in elementary grades of the same subjects. Electrical engineering drew many, as did Diesel and steam engine courses and architectural drafting. Eighteen registered to study automobile engines, and seventeen attended the home nursing class. Fifteen will study lettering and a similar number will take up figure drawing.

Again the short-story writing course is proving popular, with nineteen enrolled.

B.C. EXAMINES SOCIAL CREDIT

Brief by Charles A. M. Poudrier Sent to Treasury for Review and Report

The British Columbia Government, with the slogan of "socialized capitalism," is making an informal examination of Social Credit theories. Premier Pattullo announced yesterday, without in any way committing the ministry "to an expression of opinion on the subject."

A brief prepared by Charles A. M. Poudrier, an accountant of Vancouver, dealing with national credit accounts and the accounting of expanded currencies, has been handed by the Premier to treasury officials for examination and report. The examination is now under way.

NOT CONVERTED

So far as could be ascertained yesterday, treasury officials have not as yet been converted to Social Credit principles. However, the official report on the Poudrier brief has yet to be made to the Government.

Mr. Poudrier, it is unofficially understood, went into detail as to how the credit accounts of business and other corporations could be kept under a Social Credit system.

LAVAL GIVEN FREE HAND BY CABINET

French Premier Appeals to Nation for United Support for Policies

MINISTRY PROMISES TO ASSIST BRITAIN

PARIS, Oct. 4 (AP).—Premier Laval, assuming "responsibility" for France's stand at Geneva in consideration of sanctions after a vote of confidence from his Cabinet, appealed tonight for the nation's support.

"My authority at Geneva will be only as great as the unity of my country," Laval declared in a manifesto issued after the Cabinet meeting. In official quarters it was said he was given a free hand to recommend to the League a programme of sanctions discussed with Anthony Eden of Great Britain.

"Coming from the Cabinet meeting before leaving for Geneva, I feel comforted by the confidence my colleagues have given me," Laval said in his manifesto.

"Last week I was before the League with the useful and cordial assistance of the entire French delegation, and we received full approval."

"I will assume the responsibility which falls to me and of which I feel the whole weight in the interests of France which, at the same time, are the interests of peace. I have the right in the present circumstances to appeal to all Frenchmen."

"Partisan quarrels must end. Practical controversies must cease. It is necessary that the whole country, following the example of the Government, show proof of calm."

"When it is a question of our internal politics all controversies are legitimate. They must be halted when the higher interests of the country require it."

"Tomorrow at Geneva it is not a political party I represent: it is France herself."

"My authority will be greater if the union of all is more closely bound."

PROMISES TO AID BRITAIN
Following the Cabinet meeting it was reported, without official confirmation, that France had promised aid in the event the British fleet in the Mediterranean is the object of "unprovoked attack" prior to the time the League applies Article XVII of the covenant, which will automatically take care of such cases.

France, it was said in diplomatic quarters, considers it has little to lose by such a promise. The League procedure is expected to embrace Article XVI shortly.

Mr. Smith opened his remarks with a review of the European situation, declaring that the Italian invasion of Ethiopia was an attempt by Mussolini to save the capitalist system. He also touched on the conditions in Central Europe and in Canada and declared it was impossible for the capitalist system to provide social security for the people of the country.

APPEAL TO YOUTH
Miss Margaret Knott, who was introduced as a qualified school teacher, spoke on "An Appeal to Youth" and said that the young people of today did not fully realize their position. They are not, she said, interested in politics, and they are not wanted. "What is there for the young people in the future under the present system?" she asked. She instanced many cases of students who had gone to colleges and universities, wholly lacking in ambition because of the insecurity of the future. She maintained a change in the system and the adoption of the C.C.F. plan would give new hope to the youth of Canada.

EASTERN CONDITIONS
Mr. Round, who was introduced by the chairman as coming from the East to assist Professor Gordon with his campaign, discussed the subject "Poverty Amidst Plenty." He reviewed some of the conditions in the Eastern parts of Canada, particularly in Quebec, and told of the progress of the C.C.F. movement. He said there were 100 C.C.F. candidates in Ontario and that the movement was gaining ground. During his address he recalled the Beauharnois incident, the Montreal Harbour Bridge contract and gave figures from the Canada Year Book concerning wage scales in Canada. He pictured the destruction of foodstuffs, because of over-production, and advocated the C.C.F. planned economy programme as the only way in which there could be an equitable distribution of the products of industry.

Miss Mildred Osterhout, Vancouver, was to have spoken on the "When, Why and How of the C.C.F.," but on account of the lateness of the hour, she told a number of stories to illustrate her subject.

The Third Lutheran World Convention will be held in Paris, October 13-20, with the Evangelical Lutheran Church as host. The programme theme is "Lutheranism and the Present World Crisis."

A LUCKY RECOVERY
HAMPTON, Neb., Oct. 4.—Ed. Endler dropped his spectacles into a gravel pit lake. He searched briefly, gave up. An hour later the glasses, having been pumped through a 200-foot pipe, dropped onto the bed of a gravel truck. They were not broken.

Tax Penalties in Saanich Will Be Imposed Shortly

WITH the first tax penalty of 3 per cent due to be imposed next Friday, preparations at Saanich Municipal Hall yesterday indicated a last-minute rush to pay current accounts was expected. Four per cent penalties will be imposed on October 31 and 31. Today the municipal offices will remain open until 5 p.m., while for the first four days of next week the municipal staff will work until 8 p.m. Part-payments will be accepted, if taxpayers cannot afford to pay entire amounts, municipal officials pointed out.

A Government office had been removed to Vancouver because it was of no use to Victoria and was costing more money to operate here.

Mr. Youhill asserted that protective tariffs were not to increase the cost of living but to protect workmen. With free trade Canadian workmen would be thrown into direct competition with countries whose wages ran as low as 10c per day. He told how the free-trade bogey had been used by Liberals on many occasions. Each time they were badly beaten at the polls.

CUT DOWN HOURS
He stated that there were far more men on the labor market than there were jobs for. This meant that working hours must be cut down to provide more employment. He told how the members of the International Typographical Union found work for hundreds by fixing a five-day week to Victoria men and each working member gave one-sixth of his salary to those not so fortunately situated.

Referring to the Oriental vote issue, Mr. Youhill firmly believed that Chinese, Japanese and Hindus had no say in how the country was governed. In their native lands a white man was not allowed to vote.

"You can do no better than to vote for Mr. Plunkett, because he represents a policy which is the very backbone of Canada," Mr. Youhill concluded.

MUSSOLINI TRIES TO MAKE BARGAIN

giving Italy a mandate at least over the border regions of Ethiopia.

Any such proposal, they said, should have been made through Geneva, and in any case would have practically no chance of meeting with British approval if it involved an Italian mandate over any part of Ethiopia.

If the suggestion of annulling military measures is accepted, it Duce said, Italy will discuss the matter before the League of Nations, "although she does not feel that she is treated as she should have been" by the league.

STAYS IN LEAGUE
Mussolini further said Italy will not consider quitting the League "unless this gesture is forced upon her by the attitude of the other League members."

Italy's attack on Ethiopia, Duce declared, has not barred the way to co-operation with the Governments of Paris and London with a view to reaching an agreement that will satisfy the "just demands" of Italy.

Italy's case, he asserted, never had received the consideration it deserves. He said he recognized the peace efforts of the French and British Governments in their recent assurances that they had no aggressive intentions toward Italy.

Negotiations beginning on this basis, he concluded, would be welcomed by Rome.

French activity about the Foreign Office today, with a visit by Duce Grandi, Italian Ambassador, to Foreign Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare, first indicated that developments had occurred.

FRANCE'S POSITION
(Copyright, 1935, by the Hearst News Agency)

PARIS, Oct. 4 (AP).—Informed quarters said here that France, in a note to be delivered in London tonight, gave assurance she would support Great Britain with land, sea and air forces should any attack be made on Great Britain in the course of preparations to enforce sanctions, assuming sanctions are voted by the League of Nations in the Ethiopian crisis.

The note stipulated that Great Britain undertake to give similar aid to France in an analogous situation. It was in reply to a British note which asked the French attitude on this point.

Three main points characterized the policy now adopted by France and stated by Laval in talks with Anthony Eden, British Minister for League Affairs, it was said.

1. France will take effective part in applying sanctions and penalties when she has taken part in the negotiations leading to them and has approved them.

2. France must be assured that if any country takes advantage of the situation by aggression against any other country in Europe while France is helping with such sanctions, Great Britain will come to her aid as she has gone to the aid of the League.

3. Distinction must be made between concerted and individual action. Concerted action, the French say, must be taken not only when the aggression is flagrant, but in preparing for sanctions before matters actually have gone that far.

BALDWIN MAKES PLEA
BOURNEMOUTH, England, Oct. 4 (AP).—Great Britain's Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin, pleaded tonight with Benito Mussolini to stay his hand from any action which will make the task of the League of Nations harder "even at this hour."

Addressing a great Conservative party mass meeting, Baldwin pledged the United Kingdom to strive in every way possible through the medium of the League to end the Italo-Ethiopian war as soon as possible.

But, he made it plain, Great Britain has no intention of becoming the lone policeman of Europe.

"I wish to make it clear," the Government leader told the assembly of 3,000, "that the British Government has not, and never had, any intention of taking an isolated action in this dispute."

Instead, he said, Great Britain places her whole hope in the programme of collective security under the Covenant of the League.

"We cannot afford, either nationally or as an Empire, to refuse to play our part in the continent in which the hand of God has placed us," he cried.

"There are various—I'm not going to specify them—important nations outside the League, and the task of preserving peace is the more difficult, but if the task is abandoned now, all chance will be gone of what may still be possible. To get the nations of the world inside the League."

Had all the world joined the League, Baldwin declared, and had there been "the will to restrain war," the League could have prevented war.

Cases go over to next week

Deputy Magistrate Alex. Martin, in the city police court yesterday, adjourned two cases which were commenced before him and which he will therefore have to dispose of next week.

One of these is the case in which Jack Harris, a 34-year-old man, charged with having seized John Christianson and unlawfully held him.

Gordon Cameron, who is counsel for the accused, asked for an adjournment until next Thursday, which was granted.

The other case was that of James Veitch, charged with having assaulted David Sutton. The accused asked for an adjournment, for a week, as his counsel was in Vancouver and would not be back before Monday.

C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, said he could not consent to the delay as he had not received notice from counsel, Stuart Henderson, in the matter and the witnesses were all present.

It was finally decided to grant an adjournment until next Friday, the court pointing out that this would be a peremptory date and that the case would be proceeded with at that time.

PETITION IS HELD VALID

Premier Pattullo States Victoria Wines and Beer Plea Found in Order

Victoria's wine and beer petition, has been found perfectly in order by the Provincial Government, but the Cabinet has not yet decided what shall be done with it, Premier Pattullo indicated yesterday, after an executive meeting, at which a number of matters were discussed.

A check of eligible voters on the petition has shown there are in excess of 11,000 of these, while approximately 2,400 signatories who filed affidavits are admitted to be fully within the qualifications for a voter on the provincial rolls.

The result, the Premier indicated, is that 52 per cent of provincial voters in Victoria have signed the petition, and 42 per cent of the voters' list are on the petition as registered voters.

EXCEED REQUIREMENTS
Under provincial law, 35 per cent of the electorate may request a petition under the Liquor Prohibition Act.

The Victoria branch of the Moderation League, however, made it a first point in its request that the Government act on its present authority, without the delay of a plebiscite, pointing out that petitioners would vote as they have already signed.

So far as may be gathered in provincial circles, the Victoria petition will be treated on its own merits. The Government's reaction to the request has not been set out as yet, and action in any event is not expected until after the Federal election is over.

AMATEUR SHOW IS HELD HERE

Unusual Programme Presented at Crystal Garden—Continues Today

A "Major Bowes," in the person of Ernest Franklin, came to Victoria yesterday as the initial programme of the "Canadians on the Way to Fame Amateur Stage Contest" were held in the Crystal Garden Theatre. The show, which is entirely amateur, will continue this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

At yesterday's performances the audience was supplied with ballots to select the winner of the contest. The contest victor, however, will not be known until after the show closes.

CENTRAL COMPETITION
Following its engagement here, the show will move to Vancouver and thence East, selecting winners in the various centres across Canada. A central competition will then be conducted, with the ultimate winner receiving a free round trip to N.B.C.'s Radio City, New York.

For variety presentations, the shows yesterday were enjoyable. Sopranos, baritone, tenors and even crooners passed in singing review as the audience showed its approval or disapproval by a generous or small amount of applause.

There were comedians, who at times were exceedingly funny; dancers, impressionists and impersonators.

GREATEST SURPRISE
The greatest surprise came in the acts of the contestants. Some were young and others were not so young. The audience caught the spirit of the show and looked on good-humoredly.

Some of the talent in the acts were indeed brilliant, and with more training may prove to be stars of the future. Little June Gibson, who presented "Lulu's Back in Town," attracted popular fancy last night judging from applause, while Duncan MacLean, youthful impressionist, drew great praise for his excellent impersonations of Al Jolson, Maurice Chevalier and Bertie Voop, the squeaky-voiced screen cartoon star.

OPERATIONS RESUMED IN GREAT LAKES AREA
BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 4 (AP).—Lake and canal shipping resumed operations today after being disrupted more than twelve hours by a fifty-mile wind, which ripped through this section and caused heavy damage.

OPENING HOSTILITIES

There is a certain vagueness in the reports of opening hostilities on the Ethiopian-Eritrean border. They are indefinite to a degree, with no clear apprehension of which country has been responsible for breaking the peace. Whatever the actual incident that precipitated war may have been will doubtless be a matter for discussion by the Council of the League of Nations. Until that point is settled the question of the enforcement of sanctions cannot be decided. The suddenness with which hostilities ensued has served to complicate the situation for the League.

As generally anticipated, the first concentrated move of Italian troops is towards Adowa. They are using armored cars and tanks and an aerial offensive. The first blow of the campaign is designed to wipe out the memory of the disaster of 1896 that has rankled in Italian minds for some forty years past. From Adowa the Italians will probably move on to Aksum and the neighboring villages. In that neighborhood, according to reports, the Ethiopians have 35,000 troops. The opening movements of the Italians in their advance from Eritrea are not likely to be strongly opposed as the terrain admits of the use of armored cars and tanks, and the Ethiopians cannot successfully oppose these modern inventions. Thus the Italians would appear to have fairly easy going for some eighty to one hundred miles from the Eritrean border. At Gondar the first serious opposition will be encountered, for in that vicinity the Ethiopians have 50,000 men under the command of Ras Kassa, Governor of Salale. These troops are among the best armed of the Ethiopian forces and will probably join issue with the Italians in the first major battle of the campaign. There is no certain knowledge of the number of troops the Italians have available for their campaign across the Eritrean border. A few weeks ago the number was placed at 100,000. So far there is no information of an authentic character of the Italian advance from the Somali side. Such a movement of troops will logically follow the advance on Adowa. In the south the Italians, under General Graziani, have 100,000 troops at their disposal, of whom about half are Italians and half native levies. The offensive from that side would be directed against Geri, Gub, Harradigut, and eventually Jhiga and Harar.

Interest in the East African war will alternate between Ethiopia and Geneva for the next few days. Matters have proceeded too far to believe that Italy would suspend hostilities until a decision is reached of what action will be taken by the League Council. The probability is Italy will pursue her invasion relentlessly once having advanced into Ethiopia. The problem for the League is to decide who is the aggressor, and having done so, to reach a decision about the imposition of sanctions. That decision may well be postponed, as some of the nations who are members of the League are reported to have weakened in their determination to punish the aggressor.

EDINBURGH'S EXAMPLE

It requires a courageous voice to cry out from the wilderness in these times of a pap-fed electorate, when social service schemes are the watchword of all political parties, and when each and every community is becoming more and more dependent on the State. Such a voice, however, is heard from Treasurer Brown, of the city of Edinburgh, who said in his Council.

"I do not believe it is right to take compulsorily from the people annually large sums for all sorts of schemes promoted by the protagonists on the plea of progress. The endorsement of inefficiency which we see going on on all fronts can only have the result of bringing nearer the next economic crisis. The interests of our great cities are best served by leaving as much as possible in the pockets of the people. They, as individuals, can spend it far better than we can."

This, in the eyes of Socialists, will be rank heresy, yet it is a plea for less taxation and a monition against grinding the faces of the people. It does not dovetail with the latest social consciousness which is to take from those who have, even if it means that they have the result of thrift, and to give it to those who have not, even if they haven't because of their own ineffectiveness. It is in the eyes of social reformers a piece of ineptitude to leave as much money as possible in the pockets of the people. They prefer to see it distributed through the medium of national dividends or doles. In Edinburgh, however, they are practising in some measure the doctrine of the treasurer. The results are economic administration, reduced civic debt, lower general rates and cheaper electricity, gas, water and transportation. In that Scotch city the old Scotch characteristics are ingrained.

WHAT TO EAT

It should be the job of any Minister of Health, or Department of Public Health, to say what are the best foods to eat. In other words, there might well be a national food policy, and if there were there would be more men and women who would be classified as A-1. In Great Britain this suggestion has been put forward and a new sort of advertising forecast for such natural foods as bread, butter, milk and beef, and perhaps even beer. To prepare any memorandum of the best foods it would be necessary to examine vital statistics and to get together information seemingly now ignored. That would mean, too, a national food survey showing what is eaten where health is best, and differentiating between rural and urban centres.

This question of deciding what are the best foods should have a close relationship to the problem of production and consumption. Certainly it would have a lot to do with the increased production and increased consumption of what is best for the human frame. There is something in the nature of an investigation towards the desired end going on in the United States. If the basic commodities of a good health diet are not now used to the extent they ought to be, then it is because they are not advertised in proportion to their usefulness, and they are supplanted in the public favor by other viands which have more vociferous in their claims. The health of any community can best be obtained by constant education on the right diet, rather than by any scheme of national health insurance, which, after all, is largely concerned with cures for ills caused by wrong diet.

DOMINION DRAMA FESTIVAL

The local promoters of amateur drama are to be congratulated upon obtaining better arrangements for the coming Dominion Drama Festival. At a sub-regional festival to be held in this city next January all the Victoria and Up-Island teams will be adjudicated upon by the English critic who officiates at the regional festival across the Dominion. Hitherto the three ranking local teams have had to make their appearance at Vancouver, an arrangement involving them with a burden of expense as well as depriving the unsuccessful of the English adjudicator's counsel. This Winter's festival should mark a step forward in dramatic art, although the lack of a suitable theatre constitutes a heavy handicap. Dramatic art cannot come to flower in Victoria without an endowed dramatic centre. It is the dream of the faithful that some day soon a public-spirited citizen or group of citizens will provide such a centre.

It is gratifying to learn that the successor to Lord Beesborough, whose leadership distinctly forwarded Little Theatre, interests during his term of office, is likely to be a keen patron of the movement. Lord Tweedsmuir is reported to be himself a clever actor. Belonging to the Peebles Players, whose members are largely of the Buchanan connection, he recently took part in a staging of "Sketches of Sir Walter Scott," impersonating the great novelist. One of his novels has been rewritten as a "talkie." With its occupant an actor and novelist, Rideau Hall will no doubt continue to be an inspiration to the lovers of drama throughout Canada.

The best time in life for sport is between the ages of thirty and thirty-five. This is the opinion of Dr. Li Wynn Jones, who discussed the matter in the Psychology Section of the British Association's meeting. Among cricketers of the 1934 season the eighty-three batsmen who exceeded 1,000 runs had a median age of thirty and it was the same when the bowling averages were analyzed. Of the forty golfers who headed the British open championship in the same year the median age was about thirty-five years. In golf, the thirty-seven champions since 1894 show a median age of thirty-one years, and in cricket batsmen who have exceeded 3,000 runs in a season show a median age of 34.5 years. Except in rare instances prowess in sport declines after the age of thirty-five.

The jazz times in which we live probably explain why political speeches in so many instances must be washed down by doses of music and singing, and even by dancing on occasion. These entertainments relieve the tedium of having to hear the same thing said over and over again. Political meetings are free shows anyhow and the concert end is thrown in to titillate the appetite of audiences. There is nothing like promising the voters a good time, even if it is interlarded with the endless iteration of promises.

The Academie Française recently finished its labors on the revision of the Official French Dictionary, a task which has occupied fifty years. The last word in this dictionary will probably be new to many people. It is "zygomatisme," which is the term that explains the technical mechanism of a smile. The dictionary admits the use of some slang terms including "pinard" (wine) and "camouflage," coined during the Great War. It also includes "zut," which among those who use slang is a familiar expletive.

Truth lies within a little and certain compass, but error is immense.—Bolingbroke.

God and nature met in light.—Tennyson.

The remedy for wrongs is to forget them.—Byron.

CONTINUING TO PUBLICIZE CITY

Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau Busy Sending Out Folders And Articles

Although the tourist rush of the summer is a thing of the past, the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau has in no way slackened its efforts to bring visitors to this city according to the following figures:

In September the mailing department sent out 5,000 letters, 5,312 folders, 165 photographs, while the contact men distributed up and down the Pacific Coast and eastward as far as Montana some 17,200 Island maps, and 11,800 blue folders.

During the same period the editorial department sent out to magazines and newspapers on this continent, Great Britain and other parts of the world, 401 copies of articles, paragraphs and fillers, many being forwarded to newspaper syndicates, which, in turn, served from fifty to 250 newspapers.

The information bureau retained its popularity, with 745 visitors calling for information and folders, as compared with 564 in 1934, showing an increase of over 30 per cent. During August, 5,793 persons visited the bureau, as compared with 1,592 in the same month last year.

Officials of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau feel that this work and similar activity during the last twelve months have been mainly instrumental in increasing Victoria's tourist business this summer by over 30 per cent.

USE TEAR GAS ON ROLLOCKING STUDENTS

MANHATTAN, Kas., Oct. 4 (AP)—Police used tear gas to disperse a throng of 1,000 Kansas State College students who attempted to force their way into a theatre late tonight, after a bonfire rally in anticipation of the Kansas State-Ford Hays football game tomorrow.

IS ENTITLED TO NEW TRIAL

Comment by Counsel in Pat Howard Case Violates Evidence Act

Judge P. S. Lampman decided in the county court, after hearing counsel at length yesterday morning, that Pat H. Howard, charged with retaining possession of stolen cigarettes last December, knowing the same to be stolen, was entitled to a new trial.

His Honor held that the Canada Evidence Act definitely prohibited any comment by the trial judge or by counsel, on the failure of the accused to give evidence in explanation of what he was charged with. He said that Carew Martin, for the Crown, had, in his opinion, in his first allusion to the matter, avoided making any comment upon the failure of the accused to testify. He had, however, a little later in his address, used language which might be interpreted as violating this rule.

His Honor felt that in deciding that the accused was entitled to a new trial, he was following closely the decision of the Court of Appeal in this matter.

WOULD CALL PRISONERS

F. C. Elliott suggested that in case of a new trial, sufficient notice should be given of it to allow him, as counsel for the accused, to arrange for the bringing of McSwaine and Burns, now serving sentences, to testify, if he saw fit to do so.

The court said that this was something with which he could not give any assurance. The question of the new trial was a matter for the Attorney-General's Department to consider.

On the question of bail, the court fixed that on the request of Mr. Elliott at the same amount as before, $1,500.

Regarding a point as to whether there had been a comment which fell under the prohibition in the Evidence Act, Mr. Martin stated that his recollection was that he had not commented upon the fact that the accused had not given evidence. He had said that there was not a satisfactory explanation given of the accused's possession of the goods. He had simply shown where the onus fell in establishing the innocence of the accused.

Mr. Elliott declared that his recollection of the statement was contained in the words "he had not given evidence," etc.

CRIPPLED LINER IS MAKING GOOD SPEED

MONTREAL, Oct. 4 (AP)—The liner Duchess of Atholl, whose steering apparatus was damaged yesterday in an Atlantic storm, today was reported by Canadian Pacific Steamships headquarters here to be 600 miles west of Inishtrahall, Ireland. The weather had improved, the ship's officers reported, and the vessel is expected to reach Liverpool Monday night. She is proceeding under her own steam.

Johnny Pears, Victoria's well-known and popular wrestler and referee, who was injured several months ago in a wrestling bout, has been confined to his bed again. Johnny was up and around for a short time, but was forced to lay up again until Christmas. Dale was an overwhelming choice when his fellow performers marked their ballots for the honor. Honorary mention, through votes, was also conferred upon Owen Bentley, Bill Thompson, Lorne McGregor, Paul Rowe, Wilson Johnson, Jim Cousins, Art Chapman and Bob Hughes.

The trophy will be presented at a track banquet in the near future.

Devoted Terrier Guards Old Hat

QUINALT, Wash., Oct. 4 (AP)—For two days and two nights a plucky little fox terrier stood guard over an old hat on the beach of a lake here, refusing food and defying attempts to pick up the headgear.

City and District

Brakes Were Defective—A fine of $5 was imposed upon Neil Jensen in the City Police Court because he operated an automobile with brakes that were not in good order.

Visit Aged Men—W. H. Davies, visiting the Aged Men's Home on Wednesday, was accompanied by J. N. Anderson. The usual monthly donation of $2 was distributed to all non-pensioners.

Fine Is Imposed—Sarnar Singh was fined $10 in the Oak Bay Police Court yesterday for driving a wood truck which had run into the street curb, owing to the lack of effective brakes.

Postpone Local Assize—Victoria Assizes have been postponed by the province from October 23, as originally provided, until November 4, following a request from the bench to the delay.

Herring Salt Licenses—Herring drying licenses were issued by the province this week to Armac Packers, Toquart, Chamas Bay Packers, Kyquout, Soland, Nelson Bros., Saperanza Inlet, and Vince & Company, Sarnia Bay.

Relief Loan Made—North Vancouver district will borrow $2,850 from the province for post relief accounts, it was set out in provincial orders this week. The municipality is to give security in the form of demand notes, bearing four and a half per cent interest.

Prepare for Poll—Nine provincial election commissioners were added by the British Columbia Government this week in Vancouver-Burnaby, where a by-election to fill the seat to be vacated by Mayor G. G. McGee, K.C., will be held before March next.

Ministers on Mainland—Hon. John Hart was in Vancouver yesterday on departmental affairs. Hon. F. K. MacPherson was in his own constituency at Campbell River, and K. C. MacDonald at Vancouver, where milk marketing problems were reported under review.

Papers Incomplete—Percy E. George, running as Reconstructionist candidate here, had his nomination papers virtually completed yesterday, but ran into a technicality in regard to witnesses for the signatures, which is expected to be ironed out today.

Sanitary Official Here—Awaiting the sailing of the Ss. Empress of Japan, this afternoon, Dr. A. R. Wellington, director of medical and sanitary services of Hongkong, is staying at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Wellington.

Advised to Check Up—Residents of the Victoria electoral riding who have changed their address since registration, are advised to get in touch with committee rooms of the respective parties, to ascertain where they may record their ballots on polling day.

Dean Given Welcome—One of the most enthusiastic welcomes Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, received on his arrival here Thursday was from his cousin, Gerald Hewlett, who came to the city from his farm at Cherry Point. Mr.

Mr. Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, received a warm welcome on his arrival here Thursday.

Was Acquitted—John Dean, charged with having disobeyed the street traffic signal, was acquitted in the city police court yesterday. Mr. Dean explained that he had been absent from the city for a long time, having been in London, England, during his travels and no such rules were in force there. The magistrate, in view of the circumstances, allowed the incident to pass.

Supreme Court Chambers—There probably will not be a Supreme Court judge in Victoria before next Wednesday. The assizes throughout the Province are now being held and with Mr. Justice Fisher ill and a vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Justice Lucas, the members of the Supreme Court find it impossible to have a judge in the capital to take chambers sittings, until probably next Wednesday.

Security Assured—"One thing that can be said about the relief system is that every man, woman and child in British Columbia has had the security of food and shelter, but the present system cannot go on indefinitely," Premier Pattullo commented yesterday at his usual press conference, following an executive meeting. The Province is engaged in a relief survey at present, to determine what proportion of individuals on relief lists may be employed.

Addresses Club—T. H. Ealick, secretary of the Tourist Trade Development Association, gave a resume of the first season's work of the association and plans for the coming winter and next summer during a meeting of the Capital City Commercial Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday. He tendered thanks to representatives of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., Terry's, Ltd., W. & J. Wilson, the Sidney Roofing & Paper Co., Ltd., and other firms which had assisted the organization.

Must Be Careful—In the Oak Bay Police Court yesterday, Magistrate Jay gave the same warning to offenders against the traffic regulations that was given in the city court earlier in the day. Reckless driving must be stopped, he said. The warning was given when Walter Wirtanen was fined $25 for driving at a rate of fifty-four miles an hour. The magistrate said the fines would be increased if drivers persisted in breaking the rules. He also gave the information that fines would have to be paid at once, or jail terms would follow.

Wage Orders Varied—The B.C. Industrial Relations Board, following a meeting at Vancouver on September 26, varied three orders this week, affecting waitresses, public housekeeping and janitorial occupations. Part-time work in restaurants will carry the minimum rate of 37 1/2 cents an hour for waitresses and not less than $1.50 a

Revellers' Supper Dance Attended by Large Crowd

Success, which always greets affairs held by the Revellers' Club, was again accorded the supper dance held by that organization last night at the Club Continental. Every ticket was sold and a gathering of 250 guests thoroughly enjoyed the dancing and entertainment which continued until 1 o'clock this morning.

Miss Doreen Wilson, Miss Wynne Shaw and Miss Phyllis Addison were popular artists when they appeared in a novelty strut dance and, as an encore, they gave a tap number. They were top hats and frock tail coats with wide lapels, which glittered.

A huge basket of autumn flowers was arranged on the orchestra dais. Mr. Kenneth Davis, as chairman, and Mr. Thomas Stevenson and Mr. Charles MacNeill comprised the committee in charge of the dance.

Y.W.C.A. Notes

The Senior Business Girls' Club and the High School Old Girls' Club, both held on Monday nights, made a splendid start this week with good attendance and bright prospects for even larger membership. Interesting programmes are being planned by both groups.

The Thursday night clubs had a jolly time this week during an evening of games, dancing and the discussion of interesting articles for Fall and Winter programmes.

"I feel like a millions dollar," expressed the general opinion of the swimming club members after their first evening together in the Crystal Garden pool. Instruction given by Miss Ryan will soon improve weak and faulty strokes.

Much enthusiasm was shown on Wednesday night as twenty girls participated in the beginners' badminton class.

Gymnasium and basketball proved popular interests on the members of this interesting group make their needles fly every Tuesday evening. Members bring their own yarns and learn to add these attractive things to their wardrobes. Collar and cuff sets are being made in the new wool embroidery and fagoting.

Some enthusiasts are making a start on Christmas gifts in the line of wood carving and pottery.

The association is delighted to have Miss Creaser, V.O.N. supervisor, to conduct the home nursing course on Tuesday evenings. This course will include instruction in the simpler duties of a nurse in caring for minor ailments in the home, and simpler rules of hygiene and sanitation; also the care and feeding of infants and young children.

Enthusiastic interest is shown by all those who are taking leading responsibilities for the presentation of "Let's Be Friendly," a cavalcade of understanding, early in November.

The next meeting of the board of directors will be held on Friday, October 11, at 7:30 o'clock.

Sidney

C. 100 on Monday. Some interesting pictures will be shown and there will be an orchestra in attendance, after which refreshments will be served. The July 12 celebration contest prizes will be given and holders of books are asked to turn them in before that date. This is the first of a series of entertainments which will be held monthly during the winter.

ISSUES REPLY TO CHALLENGE GIVEN

Prof. J. King Gordon, C.C.F. candidate, says he has no connection with East.

Challenged by Joseph B. Clearhue on Tuesday to give a public reply as to how he could carry on his profession at Montreal and still represent Victoria if elected to the House of Commons, Professor J. King Gordon, C.C.F. candidate, has given an answer.

Professor Gordon states that his appointment at a Montreal college terminated a year and a half ago and that he has no professional obligations binding him to the East. Mr. Clearhue also alleged that Professor Gordon had been given to the C.C.F. here as a candidate by the National Council of Twelve. Professor Gordon maintains that the council is a mythical body. He was invited to run as a candidate by the G.O.P. here and was endorsed by the provincial council.

In reply to Mr. Clearhue's question as to whether he would repudiate Communist votes, Professor Gordon states that there is a secret ballot and that he would not be bound by the influence of the Communist Party.

THREE INJURED WHEN FREIGHT IS WRECKED

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 4 (AP).—Three members of the crew of a Wabash freight train were injured seriously early today when the engine and twenty-five cars were derailed. The wreck was believed by the authorities to have been caused by a railroad tie which had been placed across the rails.

The other night a famous footballer had walked the floor with the youngest member of his family for an hour or so.

"Maggie," said he, "if the captain of the team saw me now, I bet I'd get a good slating."

"Why, John," asked his wife sleepily.

"Because I don't seem to have any control of the 'bawl'."

Wife Preservers

For grease and oil stains use French chalk and blotting paper.

Rubbing the hands with a little lemon juice, after dishwashing makes them softer and whiter, and also removes odors of the dishwasher, fish or onions.

Adding a little lemon rind and juice to stewing dried fruits such as prunes, figs, peaches, apples, etc., gives them a nice flavor.

Tennis Club Dance Held At Uplands

A delightful dance was held at the Uplands Golf Club last evening by the British Public Schools Tennis Club, about 200 guests attending. Among the dancers were: Colonel and Mrs. Eric Pepler, Major and Mrs. H. C. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Percival, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hazlewood, Mr. and Mrs. Leckie-Wing, Mr. and Mrs. J. Read.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. McCab, Miss D. Downes, Mrs. Cocks, Mrs. N. Thompson, Miss Streetfield, Mrs. J. Nelson Gibson, Mrs. Paget Mellor, the Misses Mellor, Miss R. ### Gladys Glad On Beauty

A well-known globe trotter and author, who recently returned to the United States, tells me that in Algeria there are Nauteh dancers who perform the most graceful of dances while standing in one spot and never moving their feet. These girls, he says, are trained while very young to exert complete control over every muscle in their bodies. They are amazingly limber and flexible, according to him. And their every movement is a marvel of the suppleness and grace.

That isn't at all surprising. The only reason why any woman becomes awkward and gauche in her movements is because she permits her muscles to become stiff and rigid. She isn't trained from childhood to keep them limber, as the Algerian lasses are. And when she grows up she usually doesn't do much to correct her awkwardness.

If you would have the slender, flexible sort of figure that typifies the 1935 standard figure of beauty, do limbering exercises daily. Limbering exercises are beneficial from the standpoint both of health and beauty, for they keep the body firm, lithe and in good condition. Consequently, I shall devote this article to limbering exercises designed to bring about graceful and harmonious movements.

FIRST EXERCISE
Stand erect and grasp one thigh with both hands just above the knee. Pull in short, quick jerks upward, and kick downward again, so that the loosely held leg swings back and forth like a pendulum.

Stand erect, arms extended sideways at shoulder level. Bend the elbows limply, bring the hands back so that the backs of them hit the shoulders. Then throw the hands out again to their original position. This must be done with a brisk, vigorous movement, much in the way chorists do it in some of their routines. Relax and repeat, throwing the hands forward and then bringing them back again.

Editor's Note: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlets on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture," write care of Central Press Canadian, Toronto, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a 3-cent stamp and 10 cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling.

Camoun Chapter Will Hold Party

The wool rug made and donated by Mrs. J. Brown was won by Mr. H. Thirwall, 1026 Oliphant Avenue, it was announced at the monthly meeting of Camoun Chapter, I.O.D.E., yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Sylvester, Fort Street. Mrs. George Miller, the regent, was in the chair.

A summary of the Provincial meeting and the Y.W.C.A. Travelers' report were read by the secretary. Mrs. P. E. Corby's resignation was received with regret, and a letter of thanks for flowers was read from Mrs. Sylvester. The endorsement fund contribution was tabled until the November meeting.

Mrs. Campbell read the educational report and announced that a bridge party would be held in aid of the educational work of the order on October 15 at the home of Mrs. A. Kent, Douglas Street. Mrs. Thorne read the Echoes' report. Miss Agnew delighted the members with interesting anecdotes of

STORMY LOVE

CHAPTER LIX
A YOUNG MAN'S NAVY
BILLY BURNS GROMER

Val stared searchingly back into Cordray's level gaze that had been waver. And suddenly uncertainty overcame him. A man couldn't look you straight in the eye like that and lie! Could Garne have been wrong in his suspicion in thinking that Cordray was lying? Had he himself been mistaken? The big man smiled persuasively. "Look here, I'm getting rather weary of being misjudged," he said. "I'm fond of the navy crowd and I have a great deal to say for them. I'm a senior people in the yard. Don't put yourself in a bad light with them by your foolish doubts of me, I beg of you."

As the plane-builder spoke he had put his hands on Val's shoulders. The hard blue eyes still met the younger man's unflinchingly. And then, although the fellow's gaze did not waver, Val suddenly felt that the hand was unsteady. Cordray had saved himself to control his eyes, but actual physical contact with the man he would deceive had betrayed him!

"Your a liar, Cordray," Val snarled, throwing off the tell-tale hand. "Lia has been here! Well this is the last time that will happen. I warn you, if you ever so much as speak to my wife again I'll break your damned neck—" At a sob behind the law, he hasn't violated my home. I'm convinced of that. But this is what he has done. This afternoon the doctors told me it will be long time before Sue is herself again. They say she'll never recover. And the breakdown was complete since she has lived for months in the hall that a proud, passionate, highly-strung woman can suffer when a man she's in love with turns her back on her. His face worked spasmodically.

"Lately I suspected all this. And then today Sue talked to her father and she told him what she couldn't tell me. Her dad is a pretty decent guy but after all, he's going to look after Sue until I can get back on my feet somehow. And now I've come here to tell this whippersnapper to take his cursed job and go to the devil with it. But before he does, I'm giving him a few souvenirs to take with him." His eyes fastened on Cordray's hand as it groped behind him for the heavy mallet.

"And if he doesn't want the world as he has it, he'll take it. For once in his life, he'll fight fair!" His cold eyes on Cordray, whose defeated hand had fallen limply, he said to Val, "Get out before I begin to give you a handsome map of your own face. And don't blame Lia too much for her part in this. She's an inexperienced kid and no match for this bird."

"Any idea where Lia might be, Brad?" Val demanded anxiously. "She is not at home and I'm worried. Could she have gone to your house?"

"Just came from there and the maid would have told me if she had called," Brad answered shortly. "Get going now and locate her before the storm breaks. And don't feel badly about missing this event. It's something I've dreamed about for a long time. I'll make a good job of it for you and myself."

CHAPTER LX
Val stood uncertainly for a moment as Brad threatened to thrash him. He had to find Lia but he hated deserting Brad. He stared at Cordray, still pressed against the table, his color gone, his eyes worried. "Say, what if this chap were bigger and heavier and more expert than Brad? He was already liked. And Brad rate the satisfaction of handing him the beating he deserved."

With no further word Val turned toward the door. When he approached it he saw that the Japanese was trying the knob and he called through the panel. "Mr. Cordray does not wish to be disturbed for a while, Tak!," then he swung across and made his exit through the French door that led down the long flight of steps to the sunken gardens. He could take this way to the side entrance out of the grounds. As he closed the door behind him he heard Cordray grunt when Brad's first blow smashed home.

It had cost him something just now to let Brad settle the score with Cordray. He felt the nervous reaction sweep through him. He stopped at the head of the long flight to light a cigarette with fingers that shook.

As he stood there it suddenly came to him that Jan-Edding had suspected. If she had not definitely known, about all this. Perhaps she had seen what had happened to Sue and what threatened Lia. This then, was why she—sweet, loyal kid that she was—had insisted Lia need her husband's protection and care. And Jan was right.

Tonight, as he had listened to Garne's story, the sudden insistent feeling had grown in him that his wife needed help as she never had before.

The night was hot and breathless. Blackness had fallen on the garden but the street lights were on. One of them made a faint pool of light on the grass at the foot of the steps, glancing down at it, Val was suddenly jerked into the present to see a little huddle of clothes lying at the edge of the circle.

For an instant, powerless to move, he stood staring down at the small crimson bundle. An icy dread gripped his heart. He sprang down the flight.

Just before he reached the bottom, he saw the figure stir and then half raised itself on one elbow. "Lia!" he called. "What has happened?" She had dropped back on the grass again. "I'm all right. Just don't touch me for a minute, Val. Please." Her voice sounded, strangely weak and high.

He knelt beside her. "Are you sure you're not hurt?" he demanded anxiously. She had evidently had a bad fall. Only her face lay in the light and it looked small and blanched to her golden pallor.

She shook her head. "I didn't fall very far. I fainted, I think. But I've broken no bones. I shall be better than ever—presently. Only just want to rest here on the grass for a moment."

"It will soon rain. Better let me carry you home." She made a slight protesting gesture with one hand. "It is so hot in the house. Stay just a minute more," she pleaded in a low voice. "Smoke one cigarette with me. When it is finished—you may take me home."

Why was she putting him off like this? Did she fear to return to the house where Garne waited? Something urged him to insist they leave here but he knew she had been through a terrible experience just now and to humor her he lighted the cigarettes as she asked. "Do you—hate me, Val?" she whispered.

He stared away from her pallid face. "Why did you come here to Cordray?" he asked harshly. "I thought he would help me." "I told you I would do that." "Not the way I wanted you to, Val." She closed her eyes for a moment and he saw two tears slip from under her heavy lids. "You see, I thought he was in love with me. I mean the real me. I believed he would be the one person who would not think of what had happened to me as—ugly and horrible. But when I told him that the little Manch princess was really what he had pretended—that I had been as if I were—unclean." Her voice sounded completely weary and played out. "He didn't mean any of the things he told me, I reckon. He didn't want me. He—sent me away."

Val's tone was hard. "All right. Then that's ended. I'm not asking you any questions. But now that you're through with that bird we'll go ahead with my way of living our lives."

"I'm through with him—and with everything else, Val," she murmured. "I'm not the fighting sort, you know. I couldn't face all that has happened here—"

"Don't talk like that," he said shortly. "Come, let me carry you home now. I'll be very careful."

The fringed shawl lay across her but he saw that that one of her arms was turned under her. When he reached out to straighten it she begged, "Please! Just until I finish my cigarette." Her voice sounded drowsy. She seemed to be making an effort to stay awake. Her face was ashen against the crimson robe. "I've been hurt so much today," she whispered, "that this doesn't matter at all. And I'm glad that—that this is the last time I'll make you unhappy, Val. You've been awfully dear to me. I just—want your girl, that's all. You should have married someone like Jan. Perhaps you will—now."

An unknown fear took hold of his throat. "What makes you say things like that, Lia?" he demanded harshly.

Her voice was the merest whisper when she answered, "You always hated the Venetian bracelets Val, but—they were both of us a good time. I wouldn't have dared to do it myself. See—my Chinese blood—it's almost gone—"

Into the circle of pale light she moved the arm that had been concealed in the shadows and beneath her crimson robe, Val's heart leaped violently against his ribs; his eyes widened with horror and he cried out. Great guns! Two of the six glass bracelets still remained intact. The others had splintered where she had fallen! From a deep and jagged wound in her wrist little, diminishing spurts of red gushed out from the severed artery to soak into the thick grass.

The man's frenzied fingers knotted a handkerchief above her elbow, and drew it taut. Then he swung her up in his arms and ran through the garden. His breath came in panting gasps from his tight throat. He knew that he fled before a dread, pursuing force—

"Life has suddenly become very pleasant, Toby"

For this little citizen a sombre world has suddenly brightened. His mother has given him his first taste of Castoria—the children's laxative. And did he love it!

That delicious taste is important, Mother. It means no more fights, tears and struggles that a bad-tasting laxative causes—that all too often upset a child's nerves, his digestion—his whole delicate little system. That's why even the taste of Castoria was made especially for children!

It is also prepared just as carefully for a child's needs. It contains only ingredients that are suitable for a child—no harsh, purging drugs that so many "grow-up" laxatives contain. Castoria will never cause gripping pains. It is not habit-forming. It is completely, perfectly safe. It is very gentle—yet very thorough.

Rely on Castoria whenever your child needs a laxative—from babyhood to 11 years old. Get a bottle today—look for the name Castoria on the carton. Incidentally—you will save money by getting the Family-Size bottle.

Just ahead lay the Navy Yard and suddenly it seemed a sanctuary, a harbor of refuge. There lay security! If he could reach the entrance before the ghastly pursuer, Lia would be safe.

A chill gust of wind touched his cheek. He felt the small head sag against his shoulder and stopped short to gaze fearfully down into his wife's shadowed face. A cruel, iron hand seemed suddenly to close about his heart. His breath came in broken sobs and he began to run again. But even as he passed through the gate and into this haven, he knew that for Lia he had reached it too late.

Skyscrapers Built By Congregations To Ensure Income

THE efforts of downtown churches in the larger American cities to maintain their ministry to the transient hotel and apartment house population of the crowded areas will be sketched in tomorrow's issue. To ensure an income many of these have erected large office blocks, in the midst of which is placed the house of worship. Several are fortunate in having an adequate endowment, such as Trinity Church, near Wall Street, New York.

WILL DISCUSS WAR AFFAIRS

Dr. Davies to Answer Many Queries Concerning Italo-Ethiopian Crisis

"Armageddon at the Doors" will be the main theme of Dr. Clem Davies at his Empire service on Sunday evening. Due to many requests impelled by the swiftly-passing events in Europe and the Middle East this past week, Dr. Davies will respond by a full discussion of the crisis now facing the world.

The relation to Scripture prophecy to these specific events will be discussed under the following questions:

"Are we now entering upon the Saturday night period before the millennium?"

"Is Mussolini the King of the North as laid down in Daniel's prophecy?"

"Why did Mussolini stage an N.B.C. broadcast of his Rome speech? Was he appealing to the Italian Americans or making a bid for the support of the Bank of Italy in America?"

"How far is Italy behind the Duce? Is the Pope having trouble with both Mussolini and one of his cardinals, who is reported to be in league against the holy father?"

The choir will sing "The Lord Will Be a Refuge" (Webb). By request, Stanley Honeychurch and James Dinmore will sing Gabriel's "Pace to Pace."

The subject for the evening worship will be "The Effect of a Faithful Interview" (Ex. xxiv, 29). The music for the evening will be: Choir selection, Kents' "Thine, O Lord, Is the Greatness," and a solo by Mrs. Harry Whitaker, "I Will Sing of Thy Great Mercies" (Mendelssohn).

WILL PREACH ON LEADERS NEEDED

Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry to Give Pre-Election Address—Lord's Supper Observed in Morning

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in Fairfield Church at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow. At 7:30 Dr. Henry will deliver his series of seven sermons on "Great Bible Questions." For Sunday evening the question is "What Shall We Do in the Solemn Day?" The answer will take the form of a pre-election address, not upon political issues, but on the kind of men Canada needs in the seats of authority.

The special music in the morning includes a solo, "O Loving Father" (Del Riego), by Miss E. M. Swain, and an anthem, "Jesus, Word of God-Incarnate" (Gounod), by the choir. In the evening, Mrs. J. T. Keating will sing a solo and the choir will sing the anthem "Hearken Unto Me, My People" (Sullivan).

CHURCH STARTS ANOTHER YEAR

Central Baptist Will Observe Ninth Anniversary at Tomorrow's Services

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scotland, on Sunday, the golden text is: "What is the Chaff to the Wheat? Saith the Lord" (Jeremiah xlii, 28).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key of the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. To dwell thought of false trusts and material evidence in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true.

REV. MINTO SWAN SPECIAL SPEAKER

Rector of St. Mark's, Vancouver, to Give Festival Sermons at St. John's Church Sunday

Harvest thanksgiving services will be held in St. John's Church on Sunday, with Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, and Prayer and Holy Communion at 11, and festival Evensong at 7:30.

The church has been beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of flowers, grain and fruits, and special music will be rendered throughout the day.

Rev. W. J. Minto Swan, rector of St. Mark's, Vancouver, where he succeeded Bishop Sovereign, will be the preacher for the day.

SUNDAY MUSIC

The music will include well-known thanksgiving hymns and psalms, and in the morning the "Te Deum" will be sung to St. Mark's in the Land. The "Kyrie" will be by Mendelssohn and the "Tantum" by Plummer. The anthem will be "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land," by Stainer, with Miss Jean Burnett and Arthur Jackman taking the solo parts.

In the evening there will be an organ recital before the service. The "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis" will be played to the setting by Christopher Marks in B flat, and the anthem, "Composition by G. J. Burnett, 'All Thy Works Praise Thee' will be rendered, with Miss C. Moore taking the solo part.

In connection with the harvest thanksgiving services, there will be a grand organ recital on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, when G. J. Burnett will be assisted by the following artists: Mrs. Sydney Sherratt, Mrs. H. Noel, Arthur Jackman and J. Galliford.

PROSPERITY IS SERMON TOPIC

Rev. H. P. S. Luffell to Discuss the 73rd Psalm at Sunday Night Service

Tomorrow at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luffell, will occupy the pulpit at both services. The morning sermon will be a study of the 73rd Psalm under the title "The Time Venture of the Eternal," a phrase borrowed from Thomas Carlyle.

In the evening Mr. Luffell proposes to discuss the 73rd Psalm dealing with "Prosperity—the Real and the Alleged."

The subject for the morning service will be Miss Isabelle Crawford, who will sing "Behold, There Shall Come a Day," a composition of Alfred Wooller. The choir will sing Stainer's anthem, "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land." Arnold Trevel will sing the solo part. In the evening Miss Ethel Hale, as soloist, will sing "Abide With Me," by Ellis. The evening anthem will be "Through the Day Thy Love Hath Spared Us," by Naylor.

WILL TELL STORY OF B.-I. PROGRESS

Mrs. O. M. Brake to Speak on Tuesday on "Our Present Bondage and Release"

The Victoria and District B.-I. Association will welcome the return of Mrs. O. M. Brake at its regular weekly meeting in the Foresters' Hall, Comorant Street, on Tuesday next at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Brake has just returned from a six months' speaking tour, having visited and spoken to practically every British-Israel branch from Victoria to Montreal, and will have some interesting facts to relate regarding the rapid progress of the British-Israel belief throughout Canada.

Mrs. Brake will speak on the subject, "Our Present Bondage and Release," dealing with present-day chaotic conditions and showing that the only way of release is through a realization of the kingdom of God on earth, with a return to the divine law.

Mrs. Harwood to Be Day's Speaker

Mrs. Harwood, formerly of Calgary, but now of Vancouver, will be the guest speaker on Sunday, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Spiritual Science Temple, in the Central Auditorium, 1406 Douglas Street. Messages will be given from flowers at the close of the service. Clarence Kirchin will sing "The Old Rugged Cross."

CORDOVA BAY SCHOOL

The Shantymen's Christian Association will reopen the Sunday School at Cordova Bay at 3 o'clock tomorrow in McMoran's auto camp. This Sunday school is hoping to serve not only Cordova Bay, but the surrounding district.

For the opening day, an address on Japan will be given by Miss Vosen, who is a visitor from Japan to the city.

CHURCH STARTS ANOTHER YEAR

Central Baptist Will Observe Ninth Anniversary at Tomorrow's Services

REV. J. B. ROWELL

Anniversary services will be held on Sunday as the Central Baptist Church begins its ninth year. There will be a rally day in the Sunday school at 9:45 a.m., during which session the different classes will take part and a message will be given by the pastor.

At the morning service the anniversary subject will be "The Believer's Greatest Business Till Jesus Comes."

The evening topic, in view of the latest news regarding the Italo-Ethiopian situation, is of deep significance to all, viz., "Christ Crucified, Christ Crowned and Christ Coming Again, in the Light of Italy to Egypt via Ethiopia" (British Alarmist). The pastor, Rev. J. B. Rowell, will preach at both services.

UNREALITY IS THEME OF LESSON

"Unreality" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scotland, on Sunday, the golden text is: "What is the Chaff to the Wheat? Saith the Lord" (Jeremiah xlii, 28).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key of the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. To dwell thought of false trusts and material evidence in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear—this is the great attainment by means of which we

HEAVY TRAFFIC FOR NEXT YEAR

United States Railroads Expect Big Tourist Movement to Northwest

The low eastbound summer round trip excursion fare, first-class, tourist and coach, which have been in effect on all railroads since May 15 to principal cities in the United States and Canada will be discontinued with the last selling date of October 15; final limit for return October 31.

The westbound excursion fares have been extended to November 10, final return limit November 30 to take care of the California Pacific International Exposition in San Diego.

EXPERIMENT SUCCESSFUL
The low one-way fare experiment inaugurated by Western railroads, December 1, 1933, has proven successful and is still in effect. "We have enjoyed a very heavy travel East," said H. E. Douglas, agent of the Great Northern Railway, "often requiring that the Empire Builder be run in two sections." What is equally, if not more gratifying, is the large increase in the number of westbound tourists to the Pacific Northwest. The railroads are doing good work in advertising this section in the East and have been getting results. The number of organized tour parties this year was almost equal to any season in past years.

"Next year, with several important conventions definitely scheduled, notably the Imperial Council session of the Mystic Shrine, which is the largest convention the railroads are called upon annually to handle, there should be a still heavier, if not a record, number of tourists to the Pacific Northwest and Alaska."

AIR-CONDITIONING
Air-conditioning of the principal trains has demonstrated that it is one of the strongest advantages the Pacific Coast possesses in attracting tourists. The air-conditioned cars on the crack trains serving the Pacific Northwest, like the Empire Builder with latest type equipment, affording every luxury as well as comfort, plus low fares and meal costs have made the trip across the continent economical and delightful during the summer months.

COMMUNION WILL FOLLOW ADDRESS

At the morning service of the Broad Street Pentecostal Assembly tomorrow, Rev. J. A. Hughes will speak on "How to Take Communion." Communion will follow. In the evening there will be an evangelistic service. The pastor will give "Prophetic News Flashes" and will speak on "The Safest Place on Earth."

On Wednesday, Rev. Joseph Hitchen, of Nanaimo, will bring the evening message.

RADIO LECTURER TO GIVE ADDRESS

The First Spiritualist Church, Sons of England Hall, Broad Street, presents as the guest speaker for the evening service, Sunday, at 7:30 o'clock, Ralph W. Littlefield, noted radio lecturer, whose daily feature, "Chats on Life," is now heard every morning from CFCF in Victoria. He will speak on "The New Atonement." Flora Frampton will give flower messages and Mrs. Marie Franklin will be the soloist.

THANKSGIVING IS KEYNOTE OF DAY

Harvest festival will be observed tomorrow and Monday at St. Paul's Naval and Military Church, Esquimalt. The preacher at Matins will be Ven. Archdeacon Dewdney, and at 7 o'clock Evening Prayer Rev. Arthur Bieschlager will preach. There will be Holy Communion at 8 and 10:30 a.m. and children's service at 9:30 o'clock. The parish social will take place on Monday at 8 p.m.

ANIMAL LOVERS TO OBSERVE DAY

The Church of St. George, Liberal Catholic, 1011 Government Street, will observe World's Day for Animals, tomorrow, as being the nearest Sunday to the Feast of St. Francis, the historic friend of the furred and feathered creation. The address at the evening service will be "The Helpless Ones."

Services of healing, which will include a study class and the office of Complin, will be held on the second and fourth Fridays of the month at 8 o'clock, beginning next Friday.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)
MIDDLE AGE
"For those who aspire to make the period known as middle age comfortable, fruitful and happy, the keynote of conduct must be 'moderation.' In matters of food and exercise, work or play, the middle-aged must conserve their powers. Even in such common matters as sunshine and fresh air one can go to extremes, like the nudists and sunbathers, and in the matter of food, it is notorious that we cannot be trusted. Fadists often eat

Little Stories for Bedtime

Peter Learns More About the Vireos

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"Speaking of the Vireos, Redeye seems to be the only member of his family around here," remarked Peter.

"Listen," commanded Jenny Wren. "Listen. Don't you hear that warbling song way over in the Big Elm in front of Farmer Brown's house—where Goldy the Oriole has his nest?"

Peter listened. At first he didn't hear it, and as usual Jenny Wren made fun of him for having such big ears and not being able to make better use of them. Presently he did hear that song. The voice was not unlike that of Redeye, but the song was smoother, more continuous and sweeter. Peter's face lighted up. "I hear him," he cried.

"That's Redeye's cousin, the Warbling Vireo," said Jenny. "He's a better singer than Redeye, and a just as fond of chasing his own tail." "Somehow I don't remember just what Warble looks like," Peter confessed.

"He looks a lot like his cousin Redeye," replied Jenny. "His coat is a duller olive-green, and underneath he is a little yellowish instead of being white. Of course he doesn't have red eyes, and he is a little smaller than Redeye. The whole family looks pretty much alike anyway."

"You said something then, Jenny Wren," declared Peter. "They get me all mixed up. If only some of them had some bright colors! It would be easier to tell them apart." "One has," replied Jenny. "He has a bright yellow throat and

"That's Redeye's cousin, the Warbling Vireo," said Jenny.

"Is he a singer, too?" asked Peter.

"Of course," replied Jenny. "Every one of that blessed family loves the sound of his own voice. It's Balancing budgets and deciding civic policies are not the only accomplishments of Acting-Mayor P. R. Brown and Alderman Andrew McGavin.

CANZONERI RETAINS LIGHTWEIGHT BOXING CROWN

CHAMPION DEFEATS AL ROTH IN GREAT BATTLE AT GARDEN

Fans Roar Their Approval and Then Give Challenger Great Hand for His Gameness—Canzoneri Won First Twelve Rounds—Roth Stages Good Rally

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP).—Tony Canzoneri, gallant little ruler of the lightweights, successfully defended his world's title here tonight with a rousing fifteen-round triumph over Al Roth, of New York, in the Madison Square Garden ring.

Both weighed in at 133 1/2. The 14,210 spectators, who paid almost $40,000 to see the best light-weight fight in years, stood and roared their approval as Canzoneri left the ring, then gave a round of cheers for the defeated challenger as a reward for one of the greatest exhibitions ever displayed for a New York fight audience.

The decision of Referee Arthur

Donovan and the two judges was unanimous. The Associated Press score card gave Canzoneri the first twelve rounds and Roth the last three.

There was only one knockdown. In the third, Canzoneri opened a cut on Roth's mouth with a left hook and then followed with a sledgehammer right to the same spot which sent the plucky fighter from the Bronx down. He was on his knees immediately, but stayed down for a count of nine.

While the round score indicates the Italian's victory was decisive and convincing, the crown he won from Lou Ambers last May wobbled precariously on Canzoneri's head throughout the last three rounds.

ROTH RALLIES
From the twelfth on, a badly beaten Roth put on a rally that left the galleries pop-eyed. He rained in rights and lefts, landed three punches to one in short-range fighting, and had Canzoneri, bleeding from a cut mouth, on the run.

Removal of Fish Traps Credited With Salmon Run

SEATTLE, Oct. 4 (AP).—A phenomenal run of salmon from Puget Sound into fresh water spawning grounds, the largest in twelve to fifteen years, is now on, sportsmen said today. The removal of fish traps is credited with the increase.

Workers at the Government Docks at Ballard said that great schools of salmon journey from salt to fresh water whenever the locks are opened. Fishermen are reporting fine catches in Salmon and Shulhook Bays.

His Single Won Ball Game for Tigers

"JO JO" WHITE.

HUSTLING young fly-chaser of Detroit Tigers, who drove in the winning run yesterday in the eleventh inning of the third game of the world series at Wrigley Field, Chicago, and gave his teammates a 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP).—Kenesaw

Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, began an investigation tonight into the controversy at the third world series game today between Umpire George Moriarty and Chicago Cubs, led by Manager Charlie Grimm.

The commissioner received a report of the incident from Moriarty, the American League umpire, who aroused the ire of the Cubs when he called first baseman Phil Cavarretta out after an attempt to steal second base in the sixth inning.

The commissioner did not disclose what the umpire had reported, but he immediately ordered Grimm, Woody English and outfielder George Stainback to tell their side of the story to him tomorrow. He did not state whether he would see the Cub players before or after tomorrow's game with Detroit Tigers.

DEFEATED ARGUMENT
A heated argument started when the Cubs, led by Grimm, rushed onto the field after Moriarty waved Cavarretta out. The American League umpire terminated it by ordering Grimm out of the ball park.

After another inning, during which the Cub "bench jockeys" rode the umpire from their bench, he gave English and Stainback the "air" also.

One of the main points of contention was expected to be not only what the Cubs said to the arbiter, but likewise what Moriarty said to the Cubs.

Grimm and the rest of the Cubs claimed Moriarty used extremely violent language in delivering his tirade to the men on the bench.

Ford Frick, president of the National League, who occupied a box near the Cub dugout, said he was prepared to give Commissioner Landis any information he might want from him about the affair, and added: "Moriarty used blasphemous language in talking to the Cubs' bench. Undoubtedly there were a lot of hot words exchanged on both sides."

Pitches Tigers to Great Victory

"SCHOOLBOY" ROWE

W HO, yesterday, in the role of a relief hurler, was credited with hurling the Detroit Tigers to a thrilling 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the third game of the world series at Wrigley Field. Rowe replaced Hossett in the last half of the eighth inning with the score standing 5-3 in favor of the Tigers. In a great ninth-inning rally, Rowe drove over two runs and evened the score. In the two remaining innings Rowe allowed one hit, while his clubmates managed to drive in the winning run in the eleventh inning for a 6-5 victory.

Indoor game has fallen into disfavor for some time, but the old enthusiasts are getting back into it and a large number of novices are taking it up and showing admirable form. As a result, the management of the athletic end of the organization has decided to give the sport a little impetus by announcing a tourney that there will be a goodly number of entries is assured.

Immediately after this series it is proposed bringing off open singles and doubles, into which will be invited the representatives of the different local associations. It is understood that Victoria West has more than a few adepts and that North Ward is able to contribute some entries. Therefore, it is highly probable that there will be a keen and interesting competition for the local championship in singles and doubles handball.

Football players who wear the blue and white — In other words, members of the James Bay Athletic Association, are taking up training for the local league and for their matches with Vancouver's club.

The athletes went into scrimmage practice and other tactics with grim determination and made splendid progress in the requirement of proficiency. They expect to win the local championship and to show the Terminal City representatives the way.

Plans for National Rugby Series Meet With Good Response

Eastern Canada Officials Look With Favor on Proposal, But Admit Many Obstacles Would First Have to Be Overcome

HALIFAX, Oct. 4 (AP).—Unless some central points could be agreed upon and satisfactory financial arrangements made for the play-downs, a practical impossibility of the Canadian Rugby Union staging annual championship series was foreseen tonight by Atlantic officials of the English game.

"It would be a great thing," Commander L. W. Murray, president of the Halifax City League, said, "but would hardly be possible, due to the difference in East and West playing schedules."

"In the East the schedules open during the early part of October, and play-downs are finished by the end of November. The Western season opens at the end of November and continues through December and the early part of January. Then there is a break in the schedule, which results in the teams playing off during the latter part of April."

"Expenses would run very high, since it would be necessary to send the Eastern representatives to one of the British Columbia Rugby centres, probably Vancouver."

QUESTION OF DISTANCE
MONTREAL, Oct. 4 (AP).—Probably the question of distance would forestall plans for immediate English Rugby play-downs in Canada, was expressed today by R. H. Gunn, vice-president of the Canadian English Rugby Union and an official of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association team.

Mr. Gunn, commenting on a report from Vancouver that play-offs might be held for the Canadian Rugby title, said: "Quebec would be greatly interested in such a proposition, but I am afraid the matter of distance will prevent play-downs from being held in the immediate future."

He said he was sure the Maritime Provinces would be glad to compete. Mr. Gunn pointed out that teams from Quebec and the Maritimes already compete for a trophy known as the MacTier Cup. Ontario also is eligible for competition, but does not compete because of the expense of travel, he said.

Many Horses Are Ready for Final Meet at Toronto

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 4 (AP).—Groomed for the final three weeks of the Canadian racing season, one of the largest shipments of thoroughbreds ever to come from the West are quartered here at Queens Park Race Track.

Most of the Western owners shipped to Queens Park, a half-mile oval, after the close of the Woodbine meet a week ago. Headed by C. L. Jacques' Western sensation, Joey, more than a dozen Western horses will go to the post tomorrow. Joey came East primarily for the Woodbine Special Handicap, worth $2,500 added.

The Western handicapper performer tomorrow will meet a high-class band of sprinters, led by J. E. Smallman's Quickly and Techeater. Other Westerners include George E. Miller's Ruby Stone, Shambles, Lord Whittier, Book Whittier and Pekisko.

Junior Netters Will Open Play

Members of the Garrison Junior Badminton Club will open the season's play Monday on the club courts at the Armories, Bay Street. Playing times will be from 4 to 6 o'clock on Mondays and 10 o'clock to 12 noon on Saturdays. Players interested in joining the club should communicate with Hugo Rayment.

POLO MATCH BILLED

The Centaurs Polo Club will play a match at the Foul Bay Road grounds on Sunday, at 3 o'clock.

When up prices met with little success against heavy selling from profit-takers and elevators. Export sales were small.

Liverpool futures closed 2 1/2¢ lower, with declines also registered at Buenos Aires, Chicago and Minneapolis.

Increased wheat shipments from Argentina this week had much to do with creating bearish sentiment. Cash and coarse grains were quiet.

FLIGHT...by W. D. TIPTON and J. H. MASONGUYNEMEROF ALL THE AIR FIGHTERS
OF FRANCE, GEORGES GUYNEMER WITH 53 VICTORIES WAS THE MOST COLORFUL.

EIGHT TIMES HE WAS SHOT DOWN, EITHER
WOUNDED OR WITH HIS ENGINE SHOT TO PIECES.

HE WAS FINALLY
BROUGHT DOWN AND KILLED
FIGHTING SINGLE HANDED
A DOZEN GERMAN PLANES
WHICH HAD ATTACKED
A FRENCH OBSERVATION
PLANE.

CAPT. GEORGES GUYNEMER was universally rated as the greatest air fighter of France. Legend has it that he was afflicted with an incurable disease. He knew his days were numbered and so fought and died with fatalistic fervor.

His great fame caused the French to surround him with their crack pilots, and there came into being a squadron of air fighters known as the Cigognes Escadrille, "the Storks," each ship of the squadron carrying as its fighting emblem the figure of a stork in full flight. It was strange indeed that the emblem of birth should be carried by the greatest band of air killers the French air service could muster.

THE HANSON

There is something charming and arresting about the hansom—that quaint, light, two-wheeled enclosed carriage affair, with an elevated seat at the rear for the caddy.

Frequently worn, often rather faded-looking, ever-dying, but apparently never altogether dead, it is difficult to credit this frail, outmoded, but impossible to quite kill, conveyance with being as Beaconsfield once called it, "The gondola of London."

Virtues, hidden though they be, it surely possesses. There must be utilitarian reasons, not just some folks' yearnings for yesterdays to explain its tenacious presence.

The vehicle is so-called after its inventor, Joseph Aloysius Hanson, who was born in England at the turn of the nineteenth century.

The seedy-looking man called on his doctor.

The latter cast a critical eye over the patient.

"So you don't feel any better after taking the medicine I prescribed," he said.

"By the way, have you followed anyone else's advice since you were taken sick?"

The patient nodded guiltily.

"Yes," he replied, "a young medical student. A friend of mine."

The doctor thrust out his jaw aggressively.

"And what foolish advice did he give you?" he asked.

"Well, he told me to come and see you," the patient replied.
